

SOCIALLY INTELLIGENT SELLING

Our Sales Skills Development Workshop

A two day high-impact workshop designed & delivered by our award-winning sales specialist.

“The customer’s perception is your reality.”

- Katie Zabriskie

This is your invitation to become a socially intelligent sales professional...

Our Three Step Sales Skills Programme for Sales Professionals.

It's time to step into the sweet spot of selling.

SOCIALLY INTELLIGENT SELLING

What additional skills do you need in order to have a distinctive edge when it comes to selling?

Why is this right for you?

You want to increase your conversion rate, get existing customers coming back for more and ensure they recommend you to their family & friends.

You want to get better at educating your customers by up-selling and cross-selling.

You want to be able to confidently handle objections & concerns whilst being more influential and persuasive when negotiating and closing a sale.

What does it fix?

Your sales team are order takers and only respond to what the customer asks for.

Conversion rates are below target, and opportunities to up-sell higher value products and cross-sell associated products are regularly missed.

Sales to existing customers are lower than they should be and there are glaring inconsistencies in the sales results of team members.

Selling is done by the book, not from the heart.

“The customer’s perception is your reality.”

Katie Zabriskie
